

6" Bench Grinder with 40mm white stone wheel

The RSBG6 has a long established reputation as a robust, solid and reliable machine, making it an ideal choice for the home workshop.

The spark guards and tool rests are adjustable unlike many of the machines that are aimed at home users. The cast body reduces vibration and allows smooth operation, essential for successful, accurate sharpening. Rubber feet dampen vibration whilst ensuring the grinder does not move during use.

The 40mm whitestone is ideal for applying a fine finish, particularly to HSS turning tools, while the coarser greystone is perfect for rougher grinding and shaping.

Record Power grinders are designed to give many years of service and replacement stones are readily available should the original ones become worn out, a sure sign of the reliability of these machines.
