

Z-saw KATABA crosscut saw

The 265 Kataba from Z Saw Company.

A top-flight general-purpose saw.

In essence, this saw performs a similar function to better known site saws, but the KATABA does them in the splendid Japanese fashion.

It will cut solid wood, plywood, laminate, man-made sheet, plastics etc. It has a fast cut, excellent for crosscutting larger section timber.

The 265 features a rattan wrapped solid wood handle. The easy change blade fitting provides the benefits of rapid replacement of spare or alternative blades and allows for the blade to be removed for storage, meaning the saw fits into most toolboxes

The teeth are impulse hardened and diamond ground, which gives sharp teeth and long-lasting performance.
